

Spring Boot learning system documentation

1. How to use the system

- The user

In order to access the system the user needs to register first, then log in. After this process the user will be redirected on the lectures page.

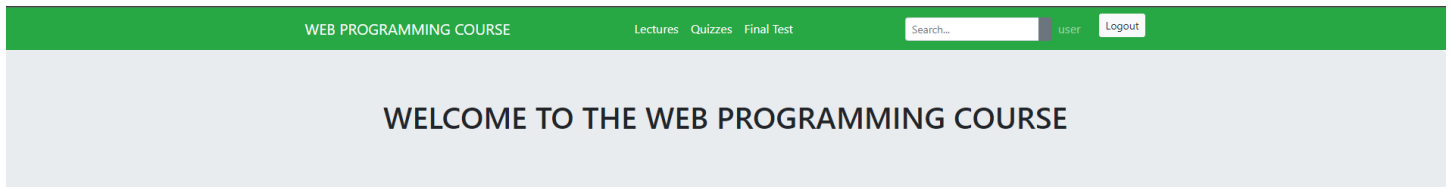

By clicking on the 'View lecture' button, the user can access the selected lecture and all its content. On the selected lecture page the user can access all the lectures available without going back to the lectures tab.

On this page the user can also access the current lecture quiz, the lecture live session and the lecture recording.

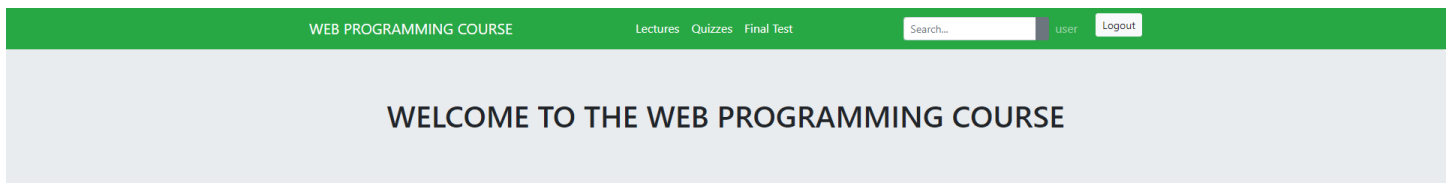

On the Quizzes page the user can view all available quizzes.

Quizzes
